Letter dated 28 December 1994 from the Executive Secretary of the Commonwealth of Independent States addressed to the Secretary-General

I have the honour to inform you that, by a decision taken on 21 October 1994, the Council of Heads of State of the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) determined that the mandate of the Collective Peace-keeping Forces in the Georgian-Abkhaz conflict zone would run until 15 May 1995. This period may be extended by a new decision of the Council of Heads of State.

I am confident that the closest cooperation and coordination will continue to prevail in the relations between the CIS peace-keeping forces and the United Nations Mission of Observers in Georgia (UNOMIG).
